WE are informed that the steamship George B Upton, having finished her repairs, left New London Saturday morning, and may be expected here on Wednesday.

Mr. B. Doschez, of the Postoffice Literary Emporium, has furnished us the latest copies of the Staats Zeitung, Scientific American, New York Independent, and other publications. Mr. Doschen always keeps on hand a large variety of all the latest papers, magazines, reviews, and everything pertaining to that line.

LANGE ARRIVAL OF NEW ROUGH RICE.-The Savannah Republican says that the steamer J. A. Metcalf arrived at HABERSHAM'S Mill yesterday afternoon with 1990 bushels of new rough rice from the plantation of Mr. TAYLOR on Back River. The Planters' Mill receive a cargo this morning of eight hundred bushels of the cereal in the rough from the plantation of Dr. Waring, at Mackey's

A New FEATURE. - The novelty of a free signeh has long disappeared, and it is now a recognized institution, inseparably connected with civivilization, but a recent move has been made by the proprietors of the Charleston Hotel and the Mills House, and a free lunch at night is now the latest agony. These hotels are conducted on the most libers.l principles, and the landlords are masters of the situation. The night lunch is destined to be a success, and we commend it to the public, knowing that it will never lack patronage.

UNITED STATES COURT-Hon. GEO. S. BRYAN Presiding.—The petition of J. W. Scholze to be admitted to the rights of citizenship, was read by A. H. Brows, Esq., and, on his anotion, the petition was granted. The petitions of MARTIN MUL-LEE and LOBENZO NOOT, to the same effect, were read by D. T. Corbin, Esq., and, on his motion the petitioners were made citizens on subscribing to the prescribed oath. The petition of Mr. B. GARDEN PRINGLE to be made a Commissioner in the United States-Court was read and the petitioner sworn and admitted.

tion was recently made to the Mayor by certain parties that a foundling had been left at their door, and they requested the city allowance of $15 per month for its support. This was granted, but the matter placed in the hands of the detectives, who not only discovered the parents, but found that the child had been left at the house with the knowledge and consent of the parties, they engaging to take charge of it. They subsequently endeavored to obtain aid from the city by stating that it was a foundling; but the vigilant detectives soon exposed the ruse, and the parents were compelled to take

FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE.-Mossis. C. K. HUGER and DANIEL RAVENEL, Jr., have formed a copartnership for the transaction of the Insurance, Brokerage and General Commission business. Their office will be at the corner of East Bay and Exchange streets, and as both gentlemen are well known and highly respected in the community, the new firm will no doubt receive the patronage it deserves. As the agents of several large Northern insurance companies, they are prepared to take fire and marine risks at reasonable rates. They represent several important companies in Baltimore and New York, whose capital is a sufficient guarantee to insurers that all losses will be promptly paid. Mr. C. K. HUGER, the senior partner, still continues the agency of Engines and Machinery, at the new stand.

MUSIC ON THE BATTERY.—The Post Band will perform on the Battery this afternoon, from five o'clock until dark. The Battery is still the favorite resort of the grave and the gay, and the music will be a treat to the promenaders, after being deprived of it for so many weeks. The programme is the same as that intended for Saturda", and we trust the clerk of the weather will be propitious.

PROGRAMME : March—Remember Me.

BROAD STREET.-This business thoroughfare is being rapidly reconstructed under the combined supervision of Mr. Owens and Mr. O'Donnell, the railroad and pavement contractors. The work has been commenced at the East Bay corner, and has been conducted by experienced hands. The railroad is forcibly raised from the ground and propped up until the correct level is obtained, when the stones are put in position, and a firm, strong and beautifully graded pavement is produced. Great care is taken to secure a proper gate the pangs of Rheumatism. Neutralize acid in the slope, and when completed, this section of Broad street will be an ornament to the city. Along Meeting street the wheels of the cars have worn ruts on either side of the rails, which in the rainy season are a nuisance to passengers. This will be obviated in Broad street, and the cars saved the splashing that was unavoidable before the reconstruction. From the vigor with which the work is now progressing, it will not be long before the denizens of Broad street will rejoice in the possession of a good pavement, and be able to take

PROVOST COURT IN SUMTER AND CLARENDON .-The Clarendon Press of Thursday last, in a two column leader, animadverts upon "Provost Courts and their powers." It complains, and with good reason, that the military authorities, after a discontinuance, during nearly eighteen months, of this irregular system of judicature, should deem it necessary to re-introduce it, when all the Courts of the land are open to every citizen, irrespective of color, and not a single good reason can be given for again resorting to this, in a great measure, arbitrary and irresponsible kind of tribunal. It concludes by saying:

We believe the course about to be inaugurated full of evil to the people of our District; and that while it will remedy no evil and secure no useful result, it is a useless departure from that constitutional course of government to which our military rulers should endeavor as far as possible to con-rulers should endeavor as far as possible to conform in all their orders and actions.

We trust that a reconsideration of the whole matter will result in the revocation of an order which most injuriously affects the very class whose interests it was perhaps designed to protect and which will entail an onerous expense upon all who are summoned from this District to attend as witnesses at trials conducted in another District.

FIVE SCORE AND TEN: We mentioned briefly in yesterday's issue, the death of Mrs. Mant ARNOLD, of this State. We learn, subsequently, that she was born in Georgetown, S. C., in 1757, and died in Brooklyn on Wednesday, from injuries sustained a few weeks ago by falling down stairs. Had she not met with the years beyond the one hundred and ten which she had enjoyed, for her health was good and her faculties but little impaired. Her hebits were aystomatic through life. She was an carly riser, and and dogeneral sewing. She had one hundred and sixty descendants, reaching to the fifth generation. Five children are living, the eldest being eventy years of age and the youngest fifty-five CROPS ON THE PFE DEE. -A correspondent from Society Hill kindly furnishes the following infor-mation regarding the crops in that section; 'It is difficult to give a reliable opinion as to the crops in the Pee Dee country. So far as my observations extend, the corn crop appears to be poor. There was not much planted, as compared with the crop before the war, and the cultivation has been slovenly. The grain crop, although better than last year, will not be sufficient for the country, and large supplies will be required from abroad The cotten crop is midentedly better in the Pee Dee country than it was last year, but it will not turn out what it promised some weeks ago. There has been too much rain for cotton all through the season, and the rust is now blasting the plant reside. apidly, This crop will stand bad treatment and sasters better than any other grown at the South, but this year very late planting, heavy rains during the entire season, and very imperfect culture, will undoubtedly cut this production down much below general expectation. Those impressions, derived principally from observation, are confirmed by the planters in the country."

OCTOBER .- This mouth was designated in the old Alban or Latin calendars as Wyn moneth, or the wine month; it was also styled Winter-fylitth, on account of the approach of winter. A melancholy feeling has been associated with October from the general decay of nature by which it is characterized, and many of the most beautiful poetical images have been drawn from the fallen leaves and the golden hues of autumn.

This month is generally considered the dividing line between summer and autumn. It is marked with a rich hectic red, while every wind that blows scatters its beauties on the ground. The woods never look more charming than during October for it seems as if Nature had then exhausted her choicest colors on the toffage. In the old Saxon almanaes this month was allegorized by the figure of a Busbandman carrying a sack on his shoulders and sowing corn, in allusion to the practice of sowing the winter grains which occurs at this seson. On the 23d of the month the sun enters the sign of scorpic, an astronomical emblem said to typify, in the form of a destructive insect, the increasing power of cold over nature. - Notwithstanding this interpretation, there occurs in this month some of the finest and most exhibitating weather during the whole year, the middle of the day being often enlivened by all the sansbine of July, without its oppressiveness, and all the charms of a frosty day in December, without the MAYOR'S COURT. - A rash believer in his capacity of endurance endeavored to drown dull care by flooding himself with bad whiskey. His efforts were in one respect successful, for he soon arrived at the happy state when man becomes monarch of all he surveys, and meandered toward the battery in order to obtain a good look at his island plantations. On the route he stopped to collect hi thoughts, but the task was arduous, and his weary body found repose on the sidewalk. His sleep was not balmy, though his breath was perfumed, for he was rudely interrupted, and he woke in the morning to find it was but a dream, with the sad consolation of knowing that the city was $5 richer at his expense.

A compatriot, moved by similar impulses, took obliquity of vision, and caused him to imagine the pavement a feather bed. He laid him gently down to sleep, but his slumbers were brief, and a re-moval to a less airy habitation convinced him that his old friend, John Barleycorn, had fooled him. He was requested to furnish the court with the stamps, and left thinking that if the city made money in that way it was equal to the internal Diana, a dusky maid, was possessed with the idea that she must obtain some dry goods before the price was raised. The demand was urgent, and Diana not particular as to the ways and means. Unfortunately for Di. the theft was discovered, and she was placed in durance vile until a magistrate could discuss her situation.

A Card. What is TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT, and what are its effects? These are questions which the great American public has a right to ask, and it also has a right to expect a candid and satisfactory reply. The preparation is a mild and gentle saline cathartic, alterative and tonic, and is most carefully prepared in the form of a snow white powder, coning all the wonderful medical properties of the far-famed Seltzer Springs of Germany. Of its effects we would say that those who have tested the preparation are the best judges, and they declare over their own signstures that the preparation will promptly relieve indigestion. Regulate the flow of the bile. Cure every species of headache. Tranquilize the nervous system. Refresh and invigorate the weak. Miti-Stomach. Cleanse and tone the bowels. Assist the falling appetite. A Dangerous Season. An almost unparalleled quantity of rain has fallen during the Summer. Vegetation has been wonderfully thick and rank, and, as it decays, an unusual amount of sickness may be expected unless proper means are taken to prevent it.

Fover and ague and billious remittents already prevail to an alarming extent, and as the Fall advances and the matarious night fogs become heavier, the sick list is likely to increase both in the city end the country. It is, therefore, only an act of common prudence to keep the vital forces in full vigor, so that they may resist the unhealthy influences of the season. Reinforced by the always attended to the duties of the household as tonic operation of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, well, and perhaps much better than younger persons. Until the time of her death her yesight was very good, and she could hem hand rechiefs

During the months of September, October and Novomber the difference in temperature between day and night is very great, and the chilling dews and mists of the season are the prolific causes of indigestion, cholera-morbus, diarrhae and dysentery. Bearing this in mind, emember, also, that the BITTERS not only invigorate stomach and brace the nerves, but act specifically spon the bowels and the liver, imparting to those in ortant orgins regularity and tone. It is not reasonable expect immunity from prevalent complaints if no recautions are taken to escape them.

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are at once pleasant to the taste, and the most certain of all safeguards against febrile ailments. Know thy Destiny.

HORSE POWER MANUFACTURED. In introducing this new Power into the market, we would state that the following are some of the advantages possessed by the "LITTLE GIANT" over all other Horse powers:

1. Its great strength on account of being double-geared, which not only doubles the strength by dividing the strain on twice the number of teeth, but by gearing on both states of the wheels it equalizes the wear on the shafts, and materially lessens the friction, enabling the horses to do much more work than with any other Power. MILLS are undergoing complete repair and renova-tion and will be ready on the 1st SEPTEMBER to receive from Planters and others their Rice to pound and pre-pare for market. Thankful for favors shown us by Fac-tors prior to the war, we would carnestly solicit a con-tinuarce of the same, feeling confident that our Mills will be made to do as good work as they ever did. CHISOLM BROTHERS, No. 32 East Bay. horses to do much more work inau with any ownPower.

2. Its compactness and extreme portability, it weighing about one-half as much as other Horse rowers, and occupying but one-third the space, it can be packed in small boxes, thus saving much expense. It is so simple that the most ignorant person would have no difficulty in putting it together.

* 3. The facility with which it can be adjusted to any kind of machinery at any angle, either on the ground or over-head, without moving it from its foundation, will be appreciated by farmers and planters as specially adapted for driving Cotton Gins.
